Results reflect two successfully concluded championships: Riccione ITA, Stadia 2007, and Clermont-Ferrand FRA, Indoor 2008, amounting to a modest increase in cash reserves.

Revenues were higher because of a larger number of participants at Indoor 2008 than budgeted (event based on per capita income). While Stadia 2007 also saw a significantly larger participation than was anticipated, revenues were not influenced thereby on account of a contractually fixed income. Revenue was also higher due to the convenient prepayment of the sanction fee for the Indoor 2010 event.

Expenses overall increased on account of unbudgeted travel by technical committees.
